

ECOPSYCHOLOGY WORKSHOP

Photo: Chris Noble

PRACTICES OF SACRED RECIPROCITY WITH THE NATURAL WORLD FOR PERSONAL AND GLOBAL HEALING

Facilitated by KINDE NEBEKER, MFA, MATP-EP

Join us for an experiential/ceremonial solo daywalk outdoors, followed by mirroring and a council circle to discuss our individual experiences.

A sacred relationship to nature (as we somehow dimly still know) is vital to personal mental balance as well as the health and rejuvenation of a society. Ecopsychology takes transpersonal traditions of Western psychology (such as William James and C.G. Jung) and melds this knowledge with indigenous wisdom (such as vision quests and ceremony) to create a paradigm for contemporary people who are searching for new ways to move forward in an ever-changing and possibly dying world. We will be outside, regardless of weather, so come prepared.

$10.00 registration fee

Saturday, November 14, 2009

2:00 – 5:00 pm

Sorenson Unity Center

1381 South 900 West in Salt Lake City

FOR MORE INFORMATION, E-MAIL: kinde@kindenebekerdesign.com